Well Driller Is Murdered

J. BREITWISER, WELL KNOWN HERE KILLED OVER A DEBT

J. E. Breitwiser well driller for the Certainteed Products company, who recently preferred charges against the Richmond police department for a beating given to a drunken man, was shot and killed at Golden Gate avenue and Octavia street, San Francisco today presumably in a quarrel over a debt. Breitwiser lived with his family at 1130 Regent street, Alameda.

PLASTERER SOUGHT.

The police are looking for Fred Muller, a plasterer, and trying to discover if there is any connection between a citation to appear in the bond and warrant office, served on Breitwiser by R. Johansen, and the murdererer

Four shots were fired, one piercing Breitwiser's heart. Mystery surrounds the shooting.

Johansen obtained the citation from Clarence Stafford, assistant bond and warrant clerk. Breitwiser was due to appear in the bond and warrant office at 11 a. m. today. He went there yesterday afternoon.

ARMY CANTONMENT MAY BE PLACED HERE BY U.S.

Work has been done quietly during the last two weeks by the Richmond Industrial Commission to obtain a site to put before the United States Army heads in order to secure if possible the cantonment of 40,000 for which a location is being sought, with the Bay region said to have preference.

At present it is said, the site offered at Palo Alto has met with the most favor. Something like 30,000 acres is required, with both hill and level land, good railroad facilities, proper drainage and plenty of fresh water. There is a general expectation that Palo Alto may be successful.

The Industrial Commission has figured on the locality north of this city, embracing the thousands of acres held by the East Bay Water company. If there is enough level land in this site it might be favorably considered, but a very large level acreage is needed for drilling For the buildings alone 1000 acres will be required The Industrial Commission, however, following its customary method of going after everything that may be obtained for the benefit of this city is taking a chance that army authorities may see enough merit in the Richmond site to select it.

It is said the Government will lease the land used for seven years, make good road and other improvements, which will be taken out of the lease money, leaving a good percentage for the owners of the land and that about $1,250,000 annually will be spent at the cantonment.

$18,000,000 IS ASSESED VALUE HERE FOR 1916-17

Richmond's assessed valuation will be approximately $18,000,000 or $900,000 more than last year according to City Tax Collector I. E. Marshall who is preparing the tax roles for the city council sitting as a Board of Equalization next week.

The assessed valuation for Richmond property last year was $17,103,905. For 1915 it was $16,273,285. In 1910, just ten years after the first home was erected in this city the valuation was $7,888,147. This valuation jumped to $16,273,285 in 1915.

"The large number of new business buildings and homes erected during the past year together with improvements made at the many manufacturing plants are responsible for the increased valuation" says Marshall.

Directors of the Union Oil company decided at the meeting held at Oleum yesterday to postpone the declaration of a dividend for the second quarter of the year until after the semi-annual statement of earnings is issued, which will be on or shortly after June 30. Nothing was said by any of the directors after the meeting as to the intentions of the board in the matter of dividends.

The United Petroleum company, one of the pyramid companies through which control of Union Oil was held, was formally dissolved at the meeting held yesterday. The directors also voted a subscription of $30,000 to the Red Cross fund.

IF WE SHOULD LOSE

To any fairly close observer of events and opinions in this country it is sufficiently plain that the American people are not yet fully awake to the war crisis in which they find themselves. In many quarters there is lack of understanding, and growing out of that, lack of interest.

There seems to be some sort of bewilderment among those who do not follow the course of events closely, who do not take the trouble to inform themselves and to think. Thinking is a species of hard work which many of us dodge habitually. It requires a mental application that is burdensome to those who skim along the surface of existence.

Even today, with the panorama of great world events unrolling before us, men are heard to wonder why we have gone to war, why we are fighting Germany, why we are raising troops to send far across the sea, why we are "butting into" a conflict which they supposed to be none of our business.

This writer had occasion only last week to hear those questions asked honestly enough by men—more than one of them—who evidently are good Americans and probably good business men, ready to do their duty. Many young men went to the polling place June 5 and registered in a daze of puzzlement as to what it was all about.

As one man expressed it, "There was cause for war when the Lusitania was sunk, but we didn't fight then, and it is hard for me to understand what has occurred since to cause us to jump into war with Germany." It is not to be wondered at that many Americans who faithfully followed Mr. Wilson's teachings during the first years of the war, who listened to his assertions that it was not our quarrel and that we had no other duty to perform than to remain absolutely neutral, have found it difficult to execute a complete aboutface.

President Wilson has bowed before inexorable facts, has yielded to the invincible logic of events. His reversal has been complete and sincere. But many with not the clear understanding of the president find it hard to see just what has occurred to make war imperative now.

The summons has really been sounding in our ears ever since the Lusitania went down. But we turned from it, denied it, evaded it, postponed it. Meanwhile the reasons for war steadily accumulated. The acts of German aggression, while not so spectacularly horrible as the sinking of the Lusitania, in principal were the same.

The moment came when the president could go no farther on the path he had chosen. At last he came face to face with his paramount duty of leadership—his responsibility for the future existence of the government which he had sworn to protect and defend.

It scarcely needs to be said that every American citizen should be brought to a complete and lively understanding of why we are at war and what we are fighting for. To accomplish this there is necessary a campaign of education, and yet more education, with power of analysis and of statement, with ability to put great principles in simple words, rests the chief burden of responsibility for the country's education.

Three notable statements have been made recently. On the eve of registration day, Secretary Lane made a war speech remarkable for its lucidity, its cogency, its punch. It was widely published. Then came the president's masterly note to the Russian people, stating the issues as they affect the interrelations of he allies. Finally, on Flag day in Washington the president restated the American case with clarity and eloquence that left nothing to be desired.

Among all the weighty utterances on the subject, here are three that come from the highest official sources. They should be read and read again by every American. But, of course, they will not be. To read them means for many a man too much mental labor to be voluntarily undertaken. Such a man needs a friend to sit down and go over the case with him patiently until he understands and approves.

It may help some to a comprehension of what fate the United States would face if Germany should win, to reflect on what would become of Canada and Mexico. Even supposing that Germany did not see fit to attack us at once, would she not seize upon Canada as Great Britain's finest possession? Her voice is practically paramount in the affairs of Mexico today, and in that distracted and traitor-ridden land she would find gold, silver, copper and the oil which comprises the fuel supply for the British navy.

If Mexico resisted, one corps of Germans, equipped as a German corps is equipped for actual war, would trample the whole Mexican nation into a state of bondage, and German cavalry would hold it there. It does not take an active imagination to picture what our troubles would be with German forts and German militarism frowning across at us along the three thousand mile Canadian border and the more than two thousand-mile Mexican border. On our northern boundary for a hundred years there has been absolute peace.

Of course, we could never suffer Canada to become Germany's vassal in any event. Even if England were beaten down we would have to defend Canada at any event as if she were our own—which in almost every respect she is. We never could allow the iron hand of the kaiser to extend over the land of the Montezumas as it now extends over palsied Turkey.

These are possibilities even yet. The crucial test will come next winter. If we are not able to feed and otherwise supply Great Britain, England will be forced to make peace on Germany's terms.

What would follow, should Great Britain be forced to make peace, probably to surrender her fleet to Germany, God alone knows. This situation should be known to every American citizen. We have started into a deep wood, and we cannot turn back. We know there is trouble ahead but we do not know how much. We must prepare for what is ahead with all possible energy.

Of course those German bankers who said the war would end by June 30, did not mean 1917.

Every stranger one gets introduced to seems interested in raising some sort of war fund.

As figured by many, the quickest way to win the war is to put an army up in the air.

MAE MURRAY IN FAIRY PLAY AT T.&D.

"My dream has been realized," laughed Mae Murray, the Lasky-Paramount star who will be seen at the Richmond T. & D. Theater on today and tomorrow in the wonderful story of child life, 'The Primrose Ring.' 'I have been an elf"—in fact Miss Murray was an elf as she spoke, from the tip of the feather in her jaunty little cap down to her sturdy scampering little legs, with painted boots.

"I have always wanted to play a part like I am playing now. I used to read fairy stories of the Naiads, wood-nymphs, elves, and the Irish little people and banshees.

CATHOLIC CARD PARTY IS HELD BY MEMBERS

A whist party was held by the ladies of St. Mark's Catholic church in the church sasembly hall this afternoon at which time a number of valuable prizes were presented to the winners. Score cards for the afternoon sold at ten cents each.

DIAMOND NOTES

BEN DWYER MENTIONED.

Marion Salazar, San Francisco sporting writer in his semi-weekly letter to friends mentions Ben Dwyer, former Richmond boy. Salazer in his letter to Abe Kemp, former sport writer on the Spokane Spokesman-Review says:

"Benny Dwyer, who has always been springing new jokes on you when you went up to the composing room, has enlisted too; he's in the printing department out at the Presidio, and he says all he has to do is issue orders.

INR ARE FORM.

Artie Benham, of Merced was in rare form Sunday when he crashed down the defense of the Los Banos team with 14 strikeouts. Oh gosh what a licking.

JUST FOR THAT.

When Richmond tolls down to Merced on the National holiday next month there's gona be one big explosion—not Hollis but Benham.

ALL IN A ROW.

Like ducks in a shooting gallery are the batting averages of Schinkle and Arlett, both former Richmond players. Arlett is still in the Coast League but Schinkle has gone to Montana. They are Schinkle .333 and Arlett .332.

SAILOR BUMPED.

Sailor Newkirk formerly of the Alameda team received a terrific bumping from Merced while pitching for Los Banos team Sunday when he was touched for 10 runs and twelve hits.

"SPEED" MARTIN.

Elmer (Speed) Martin, former Oakland pitcher, who was sold to the Chicago American League team, but who declined the offer of owner Charles Comiskey of the White Sox, yesterday completed arrangements to finish the season with the St. Louis Browns.

Martin, since bucking over his Eastern contract, has been pitching for the Marysville Trolley League team.

APPROPRIATION IS AWARDED RICHMOND FOR HARBOR WORK

Richmond harbor work will be available within a few weeks.

Coupled with the announcement of the harbor appropriation by Congress is the meeting of civic and booster organizations at the city hall this evening for a discussion as to what tactics should be pursued for the development of Richmond's waterfront.

A washington dispatch to the Record-Herald today gives the full particulars of the passage of the Richmond harbor appropriation. It follows:

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Francis J. Loomis of Burlingame, Cal., former Assistant Secretary of State was denounced in the House today as a "lobbyist" by Representative Curry during debate on the rivers and harbors bill.

Curry declared Loomis was lobbying among House members to prevent passage of the appropriation of $428,000 for Richmond harbor, naming Representatives Frear, Madden and Treadway as Congressmen who had been asked by Loomis to oppose the Richmond appropriation.

Frear said the Richmond appropriation had been represented to him as a land irrigation and real estate scheme.

Anson Blake of Alameda and E. S. Pillsbury of San Francisco, were declared by Curry to be back of Loomis' activities against improvements for Richmond harbor, because said Curry, Blake and Pillsbury, owners of a wharf and belt line railroad, did not wish the harbor improved.

Curry made a vigorous defense of the project.

With the objection, the House passed the $428,000 Richmond harbor item, of which the initial appropriation is $100,000, and an appropriation of 300,000 for dredging Mare island channel to a depth of 34 feet also was passed.

The government appropriation will be used for the dredging of a channel in front of Municipal Pier No. 1 and easterly from a point off the Santa Fe wharves to Sheep Island.

This channel is to be 100 feet in width and thirty feet deep. The plans for the channel have already been prepared by the engineers in charge of the work.

It is probable that the city council at its meeting next Monday evening will award the contract for a $24,000 rip-rap bulkhead on the Richmond inner harbor as the second unit of work on that part of the Richmond waterfront.

"DEAR,-Stop Your Dandruff by using Pompeian HAIR Massage."

"Dandruff has made your hair straggly, thin looking and lifeless. Your coat collar is always covered with ugly scales. Stop your Dandruff now. You can. Just look at my hair.

The Dandruff is entirely gone and almost overnight Pompeian HAIR Massage made my hair attractive."

The success of Pompeian HAIR Massage is in its name—"Massage." It is a treatment, not merely a tonic. The massaging (rubbing) of the scalp wakes up the roots of the hair to new life. This massaging also opens the pores of the scalp to the wonderfully stimulating liquids in Pompeian HAIR Massage. Dandruff goes. Your hair will become and stay healthy, vigorous, attractive.

All that is needed is a little massaging once or twice a week. One application shows results. Your scalp will immediately feel clean and invigorated. In one month your Dandruff will be gone.

Pompeian HAIR Massage is a clear amber liquid. Not oily. Not sticky. Very pleasant to use.

"Greatest treatment for Dandruff in the world," says J. A. Y., Chicago, Ill., "and I speak from experience. My hair before I started using it had gone beyond the ordinary stages of Dandruff and was covered with scales which embarrassed me greatly. I have introduced Pompeian HAIR Massage to my friends."

Practically every user says—one bottle shows actual results. Get a 25c, 50c or $1 bottle at the stores and say the same.

Have your barber every now and then apply a careful Pompeian HAIR Massage. Used in over 30,000 of the best barber shops from Maine to California.

SHIPBUILDING FIRMS BALK AT NO CHANNEL ON RICHMOND SITES

The fact that a shipbuilding company which will employ 3500 men has just closed a deal for a 26-acre site on the Oakland Estuary at a price of $850,000 or something more than $30,000 an acre is lending an added interest to the conference that is to be held this evening at the City Hall between committees from various organizations of this city and the City Council relative to spending $250,000 to dredge a channel in the Inner Harbor.

The new Oakland Estuary company, which is capitalized for $1,500,000 and has contracts to build $8,000,000 worth of steel ships has among its promoters Bank Carlson of Oakland, Clarence Berry, who made his fortune in Alaska, Arthur Arlett and Proctor, a well known shipbuilder of Seattle.

It is the opinion of merchants and other business men here that this company would much rather have paid something like $100,000 for 26 acres on the Richmond Inner Harbor if there had been a channel dredged than to have paid 75 cents a square foot where they are going.

This is the record price Oakland has yet obtained and is a testimonial to her wisdom in pushing dredging on the estuary. All that has been done there, beside building a small municipal wharf and building, which it is said has not paid, is to provide level frontage along deep water. The lumber yards and foundries and other industries have provided their own rough wharves, and shipbuilding plants use ways.

Clarence Berry of the new company is a brother-in-law of Keller, of the firm of Morsman & Keller, who own the North Richmond tract. Norsman is a steadfast worker for the interests of Richmond, being a member of the Richmond Industrial Commission and through his partner could doubtless have done something toward obtaining this plant for this city had there been a site for it. Keller is one of the leading oil operators of the State as well as a realty owner.

The Pacific Coast Steel company, Charles Van Damme, who wanted to establish a big lumber distributing yard and shipbuilding plant, and several shipbuilding companies are among the interests that have looked with favor on the Richmond Inner Harbor as a location if only there were a sufficient channel. The tunnel, highway and municipal wharf have cost about $750,000 to date.

MEETING OPEN TO CITIZENS.

Though committees will represent the various civic organizations at the meeting with the Council tonight to try to get some work done on the Inner Harbor, all citizens who are interested in the progress of Richmond are asked to be present to lear nthe situation.

The people here generalld are becoming aroused to the fact that if this city had some of the facilities that a channel would provide there would be vastly more development here than there is and that if it is possible for such a channel to be dredged it is imperative that the work be done and as speedily as possible.

The Council, it is said, is willing to do the work and do it as rapidly as possible if the engineers can show that it is reasible. That it is so the engineers both those employed by the city and those of the Government staff have already reported

President Garfinkle of the Merchants Association says he will try to have a delegation from that organization present at the conference.

COUNTY SEATERS PLAY CITY COUNCIL

Contra Costa County's crack courthouse crowd will on Saturday in the p. m. attempt to harass Hartnett's hopes on the First street grounds in this city, the proceeds to be given over to the Red Cross.

The county ball tossers will be chaperoned here by Sheriff Richard Veale and District Attorney T. D. Johnston and expect to walk away with the game bacause of the many secret practices which they have got in since learning of the Richmond city council's prowess on the diamond.

Although the batteries for both teams will be kept a secret until just before playing time it is understood that H. O. Watson will pitch for the council nine and Martin Joost for the Martinez squad.

ORGAN RECITAL FRIDAY EVE

After one of his recitals at the Paris Exposition in 1889, Alexander Guilmant, the most famous French organist, said of him: "Mr Eddy's great virtousity and his masterly interpretations elicit the warmest applause. We were astonished at the ease with which he controlled the magnificent instrument of Caville-Coll. He is a great artist." In the interest of other functions of this kind which can be had here, the people of Richmond should not fail to greet Mr. Eddy with an enthusiastic reception on Friday evening. Tickets may be had at either Lang's or Ferguson's Drug store on Macdonald avenue.

MERCED IS MOWING DOWN VISITING TEAMS

As a gentle reminder of what may come we print the following baseball information of what happened to Los Banos at the hands of the Merced team Sunday. The Richmond Elks go to Merced July 4th and if the're not careful something terrible may happen to their pennant chances.

Merced journeyed to Los Banos Sunday and defeated the dairy maids by a score of 10 to 4. The game was exciting for the fans up to the ninth, when Merced added their last four. Ragged fielding was responsible for the most of the Merced runs, although Newkirk and Arlett were touched for a dozen hits. Ted Easterly getting three of them. Milburn was entitled to the fielding honors and Bach of Los Banos also made a sensational catch in left field. Arlett replaced Newkirk in the box in the eighth inning, but was not effective. The score:

Merced	10	12	3
Los Banos	4	10	10

Batteries — Benham and Easterly; Newkirk, Arlett and Roland.

ELKS CATCHER IS SIGNED WITN OAKS

Pat McDonough, the bulky backstop who has been putting all the "rick" in the Richmond Elks, has hearkened to the call of the coast league and in the future will don the mit and mask for the Del Howard family.
